DEBENTURE PLAN HELD DISCARDED

Roll Call of Senate Shows New Vote May End Long Strife

Washington, June 6.—The new farm bill, providing $500,000,000 relief for American agriculture but stripped of the export debenture plan, will be sent to the White House for President Hoover's approval by next Wednesday, under a program adopted today by administration leaders.

The compromise measure will be raised by the house this afternoon or tomorrow and then rushed to the senate where a fight is pending over elimination of the debenture. Administration leaders, however, announced that a careful poll showed the senate would abandon the debenture, which it once added to the bill over presidential opposition.

Fifty-two senators were reported ready to vote against the debenture on its second appearance in the senate. The plan was adopted by a vote of 47 to 44, but eight other senators were equally divided for and against through pairs. The new poll by administration leaders indicated that four senators, who voted for the debenture, were now ready to switch. It was rumored that senators Schall of Minnesota, Trammell of Florida, Fletcher of Florida, and Kendrick of Wyoming, formed this group.

The debenture fight may require several days of debate in the senate but administration leaders were anxious to keep it brief for two reasons. First, the all-summer vacation of congress cannot begin until the farm bill is sent to the White House and second, the administration wants its relief machinery in action to handle the huge wheat crop which has just started towards market but which will grow in volume through the early days of July.

Farm produce prices meanwhile soared on the Chicago board of trade. With wheat closing yesterday at $1.08 1/2 for July delivery and $1.17 for December delivery, administration leaders were hopeful that the final approval of the bill would have an even more wholesome effect on wheat prices. With wheat stabilized, they likewise felt the whole grain market will be benefited.

The farm bill presented but one of two problems facing solution before the summer recess, which is scheduled to start next Tuesday or Wednesday. The other will be to secure an agreement in the senate fixing a date for voting on the tariff and limiting debate afterwards on the conference report. This agreement will not be asked, however, until the farm bill is out of the way.

Blame Prohibition For Bottle Crisis

Barnesville, O., June 6.—This town today is face to face with a crisis.

Some persons are inclined to blame it on prohibition, as is the case with a host of public ills.

Milk dealers are worrying over the shortage of bottles. They report there are barely enough containers available to supply all customers, and housewives have been asked to aid the dairymen by returning the "empties."

THE MOTOR JUGENAUT

While the death toll of other accidents in the United States is steadily decreasing, the increase in fatalities as a result of automobiles is such that the grand total is steadily increasing. Ninety-six thousand persons were killed in accidents in this country in 1928, of whom 27,500 met death in automobile accidents, against a total accident death toll in 1927 of 93,078. The 1928 total was announced last week by the National Safety Council. The 1927 total is by the United States census bureau.

The accidental death total of 1928 is 3.1 per cent higher than that of 1927, due to the fact that the automobile total was 6.3 per cent in 1928 more than that of 1927. The total death toll of 1928 was sixteen per cent higher last year than fifteen years previously in 1913, and thirty per cent higher than in the record low year of the interim—1920. While the accidental deaths from all causes in 1928 were but sixteen per cent higher than in 1913, the deaths in automobile accidents were five times the number last year than they were fifteen years previously.

Of the awful automobile death total of 27,500 last year, 15,350, or fifty-eight per cent were those of pedestrians. Sixteen per cent resulted from collisions of motor vehicles; five per cent from collisions with railroad trains, and three per cent from collisions with electric cars.

The figures Dr. F. out by the council, which showed United States rank up much higher in the number of accidental deaths than any other country of importance, demonstrate that the chief six forms of accidents are automobiles, falls, railroad accidents, drowning, burns and street car accidents.

"There were 24,000 fatal home accidents and approximately the same number in industry," the report of the survey states, pointing out that the industrial worker is as safe as the housewife and children.

"Nearly forty per cent of the home tragedies occurred as the result of falls. There were 5,240 deaths from burns, scalds and explosions; 4,320 from asphyxiation and suffocation, and 1,920 from poison in the home. Infections from cuts and scratches took 480 lives.

"There were 20,500 fatalities in public places, not involving autos, such as drowning, firearms and railroads. Civil aviation had a toll of 368, an increase of 125 per cent over 1927. Passengers killed outnumbered pilots by forty per cent."

Two of every seven accidental deaths in the United States last year were the result of automobile accidents. Should not such a showing as this make us pause? How long can the country afford to stand such a drain on its citizenship, a drain which is increasing yearly, and due chiefly to carelessness? And this does not take into consideration the injured and the maimed.

And while on the subject, consider the 125 per cent increase in aviation accidental deaths within the period of a year. What will be the appalling total, when airplanes become as common as motor cars are today.

CHURCH MERGERS

The National Council of the Congregational churches in the United States voted unanimously on May 30 to effect a merger between the council and the general convention of the Christian church. It is expected that this merger will be approved by the Christian church when it meets in general convention in October at Fiqua, Ohio. The combined church will have more than a million members.

Two of the denominations whose past rivalries have been keenly contested seem about to join hands in the first movement of a united church movement which has met with slight encouragement from most other denominations. There seems to be small doubt but that the Christian church will honor the desire of the Congregational church and vote to complete the merger.

The spectacle of God's children traveling separate paths of intolerance and waging war over petty differences has always been a thorn in the side of the true idealist who could imagine the accomplishments of an united church.

Opposing branches of religion will never be reconciled, until there is a change in human nature. Branches of the same general beliefs will only be reconciled by centuries of wear and perhaps by economic necessity. The apparent impossibility of universal unification of religion, however, does not in any way detract from the glory of the movement in the Congregational and Christian churches to unite forces for their own good and for the furtherance of religious principles.

What Others Say

BEATING THE GOVERNMENT

If Arthur Sears Henning is correct in his interesting stories concerning smuggling and smugglers, we must, perhaps, begin to look about for a new definition of the word honesty. Mr. Henning asserts that we are a nation of smugglers; that this practice is indulged in by representatives of the most exclusive and respected social classes in the land; that the articles smuggled into the country include liquor, gems—particularly pearls—and practically all things else in the way of luxuries that the heart may desire.

Then there are the professional smugglers of all these things, and their number is legion. Add to the 800,000 American tourists who annually journey abroad the armies of professional smugglers and the purchasers of smuggled goods who may have knowledge of the illicit character of the trade, and just how many absolutely honest people have we in America?

Just what constitutes complete honesty, in the minds of many people—a mighty per cent of the American people—appears to remain a matter of controversial debate. According to customs officials, our look get away with it, too. It is said that customs authorities estimate that only about five per cent of the national smuggling ever is detected. They assert that people in "high" life commonly indulge in it, and that women are the worst offenders. So there you are!

Perhaps we need an Anti-Smuggling league, with a powerful lobby at Washington and with branches in every state and city in the union and an army of high-salaried leaders and well-paid subordinates.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A day of great activity and splendid opportunity is forecast from the ruling sidereal operations. There will be a high degree of enterprise and initiative with all business as well as employment under fine impetus. Especially favored are those transactions connected with writings, publishing, promotion, advertising. It is a fortunate time for those in employment to seek promotion or favors. There is prospect of a change of benefit, which may involve new employment and there is promise of successful dealings with large or secret organizations.

Those whose birthday it is may be assured of a year of fulfilled ambitions, with much initiative and opportunity for its display. There may be an unforeseen change, possibly in connection with advancement in employment. It is an excellent time for renewing contracts or agreements. A child born on this day may be clever, enterprising and resourceful and should rise to prominence and success through its versatility and courage. It may have outstanding literary talents.

GREAT FILTERS OF THE BLOOD STREAM

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
(United States Senator from New York)

You cannot imagine that a stream flowing a long distance through field and forest could do otherwise than pick up leaves and twigs, bits of plants, and all sorts of rubbish. More than this, it dissolves from the soil tiny particles of this mineral and that. It picks up traces of every soluble substance.

The blood stream does the same thing. As it flows through the body it dissolves this and that material. It takes up many elements, really waste substances, no longer of value to the tissues. Some of these are chemical agents and they may combine in the blood to form new substances.

It is not well to have the blood charged with agents which are not useful and which, indeed, may become harmful. To get rid of all such material, Nature planned the kidneys.

These organs, two in number, have an important, a vital function to perform. It is their duty to filter out of the blood this waste material. In reality the kidney is a wonderful filter, or rather a bundle of microscopic filters. They are tiny tubes, each about an inch long to take the ashes and clinker away from the furnaces.

It is amazing how many of these little tubes there are—about four million, equally divided between the kidneys. It is said that if they were straightened out and placed end to end, they would make a pipe line fully seventy-five miles long!

Perhaps it is impossible even to approximate the quantity of solid material taken out of the body by these filters. It is estimated that an ounce a day, or nearly a ton in a long lifetime.

Not all the material we take with our food is actually used by the body. Some of it is unsuitable and is rejected as fecal matter. More of it is made use of and, becoming worthless, is thrown into the blood stream.

You can see that the blood serves a double purpose—it carries nourishment to the body and also disposes of the wastes. A river may carry coal barges to supply a great factory with fuel. Likewise, it carries scum. The arrangement is not quite so simple as this, but there is no occasion to go into a lot of detail.

The blood must be kept pure. It must be cleansed of the waste in order that it may be free to convey to the eager cells the food required for their nourishment and the energy producing substances to carry on their work.

The most important of the waste substances is known as urea. This is carried away with the urine unless something interferes with the kidney function. In that event the urea accumulates in the blood, producing the condition known as "uremia." There may be convulsions and other serious symptoms the effects of general poisoning caused by the retained urea.

You can see how important it really is to have the kidney's work normally. So long as they do, there is no trouble about having the poisons due to tissue changes properly expelled from the body.

HOOVER MOVES TO TIGHTEN UP ON PROHIBITION

Enforcement of Dry Laws Draws Message From President

Washington, June 6.—President Hoover moved today to tighten up enforcement of prohibition. In a special message to congress, he recommended appointment of a joint congressional committee which would be charged with making an immediate study of "the reorganization and concentration of responsibility in administration of the federal bureaus connected with prohibition enforcement."

The president advised congress he was ready to appoint a committee to investigate with such a congressional body, and he also pledged the support of the national commission on prohibition and enforcement.

Hoover Proposes Survey
The proposed survey would cover the whole broad field of governmental dry law activities, according to the president's message. This would include not only the transfer of some bureaus and agencies from certain departments to others, but also a general strengthening of border patrol, both in connection with prohibition and the illegal entry of aliens.

Mr. Hoover explained he would like the proposed congressional committee to make recommendations at the outset of the regular session of congress in December, as the problems involved will require legislation.

His message follows:
Text of Message
"In order to secure the utmost efficiency in the reorganization and concentration of responsibility in administration of the federal bureaus connected with prohibition enforcement, so greatly needed to improve their effectiveness, I recommend that the congress appoint a joint select committee to make an immediate study of these matters and to formulate recommendations for consideration at the next regular session."

"I shall be glad to appoint a committee from the departments to cooperate with such a committee of the congress. The national commission on prohibition and enforcement will also cooperate through their studies of the departmental organization."

"The subject involves the transfer of parts of various bureaus and agencies from certain departments to others and it includes as well the necessity for the unification and strengthening of our border patrol, both in connection with prohibition and illegal entry of aliens. As the question embraces numerous laws and regulations in federal bureaus, it will require extensive consideration which if given jointly by such committees of the congress and the departments prior to the regular session will save many months of delay."

Trigo Victory In English Derby Brings Riches For Dublin Widow; Others Win

Railroad Mail Clerk In Maine Wins $28,000 On 99 Cent Investment; Woman With Four Children Gets $125,000 Share

Banner, Me., June 6.—Today was a happy day for William P. Redmond, railroad mail clerk, his wife and four kiddies.

"Bill" bought an English derby ticket in Quebec for 99 cents. The ticket won $28,000.

London, June 6.—There were many happy hearts in England today, and many of them beat thrillingly in the breasts of bookmakers.

The victory of Trigo, a 33 to one outsider, in the annual British derby at Epsom Downs, gave the "bookies" one of their greatest days in years, for a comparatively small amount of money had been bet on this horse, the bulk going on Cragside, Mr. Jinks, Kapi and Hunter's Moon, none of which finished "in the money."

Besides the bookmakers, a small but select number of persons throughout the world also had reason to be cheerful. They were those fortunate enough to hold winning numbers in the great sweepstakes which are run each year on this classic of the British turf.

The principal sweepstakes are the Calcutta sweep, with three prizes totaling more than $650,000 each, the London stock exchange sweep, with two first prizes of $625,000 each, and the Baltic, in which first money totaled nearly half a million dollars.

Millions of persons bought tickets in these three sweepstakes, and a hundred or so will draw out enough money to make them rich and independent forever.

One of the biggest sweepstakes winners is Julian Cahn, well-known Nottinghamshire cricketer, who paid

$2,500 for a half share in the stock exchange ticket on Trigo, and as a consequence profits by more than $300,000.

An aunt of Cahn, from whom he purchased the half interest, also will receive $300,000, she is a widow, and another woman in her same station, Mrs. Katherine McGrath of Dublin, mother of four children, will profit by almost $125,000 for her good fortune in holding a Trigo ticket in the Baltic sweep.

The names of all the winners have not yet been received, but those which are known give eloquent proof of how lady luck can lift a person out of humdrum existence into a position of totally unexpected wealth and affluence.

A clerk in a business office in Oudthoorn, South Africa, drew Trigo's Calcutta Sweepstakes ticket, and unless he parted with all or a portion of it, he will receive almost three-quarters of a million dollars. G. L. Brill, a young clothing merchant of Leeds, England, and a British army officer stationed at Rajputhana, India, each drew Calcutta tickets on Walter Gay which finished second, and will make about $325,000 apiece.

The holder of the exchange sweep ticket on Brent, which ran third, is owned by James Mackie, employed in the accounts department of the Commercial Cable company here. In a few days he will receive a check for $160,000.

But there were some who were not so lucky. One syndicate of wealthy men spent something like $250,000 in buying up sweepstakes tickets, and failed to get one winner.

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the large, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. ANIMOSITIES IN HOUSE CAUSING LEADERS WORRY

Reapportionment Battle Recalls Reconstruction Days Feeling

Washington, June 6.—Alarmed by the bitterness of the struggle over proposals to reduce southern representation in congress because of disfranchisement of negroes and that of northern states because of alien population, house leaders today appealed to the membership for harmony. Not since reconstruction days has the house seen such sectional animosities.

All attempts to invoke the power of the Republican organization to settle the quarrel have been abandoned, but informal negotiations with leaders of the various factions were continuing today as the house neared final consideration of the reapportionment-census bill.

Fear was expressed by friends of the measure that it would be defeated, and their efforts to force congress to abide by the constitution and direct a reapportionment of the house membership on the 1930 census would be lost.

Rep. Tilden of Connecticut, majority leader, declared that no rule would be proposed for elimination of the Tinkham amendment aimed at southern states and the Hoch amendment to exclude 6,000,000 aliens from the population count in dividing congressmen among the states. This suggestion was rejected by the house steering committee.

There remained the hope that the riotous mood which forced adjournment of the house has passed and that both the amendments may be voted down.

ARNOLD APPEAL UP TOMORROW

Convicted Stealers of Boy Will Ask For New Hearing

Weoster, O., June 6.—The appeal on behalf of Elias and Arthur Arnold, 63-year-old father and 17-year-old son, who are now serving terms in Ohio penal institutions for complicity in the kidnapping of Melvin Herst, 4, missing Orville boy, will be heard here tomorrow, it was ascertained today.

Arguments for a new trial for the incarcerated father and son will then be heard. An immediate decision is not expected.

Melvin Herst disappeared from the streets of Orville on the night of December 27, last, and has not been heard from or seen since, his disappearance remaining a mystery.

Elias and Arthur were charged with the "child-stealing" and were convicted as a subsequent trial. The father was sentenced to the Ohio state penitentiary and the son was committed to the Mansfield reformatory for an indefinite term.

"Konjola Proved Wonderful" Says Grateful Lady

MRS. E. A. K'BURG

"The very first bottle of Konjola worked wonders in my case," said Mrs. E. A. K'burg, Monclova, Ohio. "My stomach was in a very poor condition. Even bread and butter caused gas to form. My stomach bled, and I suffered severe pains. My breath came in gasps. Belching spells also annoyed me, and I steadily lost weight and strength."

"Results from the first bottle of Konjola were almost incredible. In two weeks my appetite and digestion was restored. Gas, bloating and belching spells disappeared. My breath comes freely, and I am fast regaining weight and strength. I feel like a different woman. Konjola surely proved to me that it is a wonderful medicine!"

WOMAN'S SLAYER TO DIE IN CHAIR

Ohio Man Who Murdered Mother-In-Law; Will Be Sentenced

Portsmouth, O., June 6.—A 50-year-old man, who shot and killed the mother of his 17-year-old bride, his seventh wife, today had been found guilty of that crime and is in jail here awaiting imposition of the mandatory sentence of death in the electric chair.

In returning its verdict after deliberating more than four hours, the jury found the aged husband of the young wife guilty of first degree murder, without recommendation for mercy.

Ohio law decrees that a death sentence is mandatory when a jury returns that verdict.

The man, who is awaiting the sentence to "ride the thunder-bolt into eternity's oblivion," is Joseph Locke, 50.

He was convicted of slaying Mrs. Mary Galloway, the mother of his 17-year-old wife, Lucy. The young girl was his seventh bride. The jury disregarded the man's plea of transitory insanity, which was based on his belief that a man is not entirely sane when he is in "love."

tendent of schools, is mentioned as a probable Republican entrant. Miss woerther, it is reported, will find opposition in securing her second term as auditor from H. L. Gieckler, notary public, who is mentioned as a Democratic candidate.

P. J. Dean, who succeeded the late Harry A. Gager, president of council, is as yet unopposed for the office, but Republicans, according to latest reports expect to file a ticket that will include at least one name for every office.

Frank L. Rohms, Democrat who is serving his two-year term as First ward councilman without pay, will not be eligible for re-election, and has announced that he will not be a candidate. His position as janitor of Prospect school, under civil service, caused widespread debate throughout the city. Ohio statutes and former Attorney General E. C. Turner's ruling that due to his one position under the service commission, he was not entitled to compensation for his council duties.

George Slocum, Democratic councilman-at-large, is the only other councilman who may withdraw from race for re-election due to the fact that he is considering moving out of the city. The entire remaining group of councilmen will be candidates for nomination on their respective party ticket.

C. W. Zimmerman, Republican, has been named as a possible entrant into race for council seat, but, as in the case of major number of potential candidates, he has not announced the fact.

Jiggs, Mascot on History-Making Flight

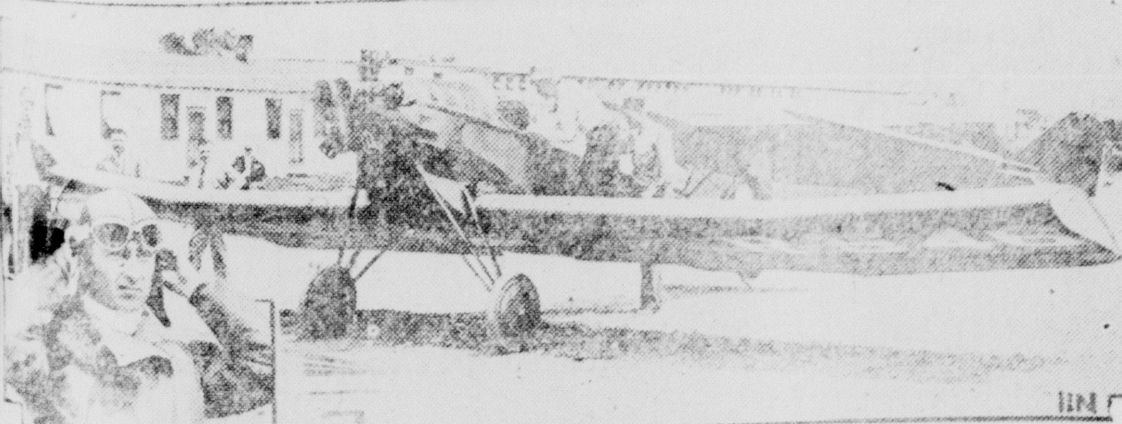

Jiggs, mimitable hero of George McManus's popular comic strip, "Bringing Up Father," is serving as mascot for Major Spatz on his non-stop, round-trip, refueling flight from San Diego to New York. The figure of Jiggs may be plainly discerned on the "ship," and in the foreground stands Major Spatz, who attained fame as pilot for the Question Mark in its endurance test. The new flight is made to demonstrate how the Army could increase the effective range of bombers during wartime.

The French Fliers Make Sure This Time

Below, French mechanics repair the damage done to the dump valve of the "Yellow Bird," which forced the Frenchmen to turn back because of the leak. Right, a female admirer of the aviators, inscribes her name on the rudder of the monoplane, to join hundreds of other inscribers.

Flirts With Clouds in Light Plane

Dwight S. Zimmerley, veteran pilot, took his 600-pound Barling NB3 plane into the clouds, a distance of 24,600 feet, according to his meter. If this distance is found to be correct when "Barney's" instruments are sent to Washington for an accurate checkup, he will have established a new record for lightweight planes.

VOLCANO LOSES ERUPTION FORCE

Vesuvius Quieter After Marked Disturbance: Lava Cools

Naples, June 6.—Activity of Mt. Vesuvius decreased sharply today, and there is hope that the eruption has passed its worst stage.

Signor Malladra, director of the Vesuvius Observatory, announced that temperature of the lava inside the active crater had decreased considerably, and that it was no longer incandescent.

Hell Valley is still filled with slowly moving molten lava, but its speed has been greatly reduced, and further destruction is unlikely.

Castellan came just as the lava stream was about to obliterate the village of Terzigno, which was situated on the edge of the lava flow. The village was completely destroyed, and its inhabitants were killed. The lava flow was about 100 yards wide and 24 feet high, down into the valley. Campitelli was swallowed up by the lava a short while before Terzigno was evacuated and Paganà also was destroyed by the engulfing stream.

Terzigno was spared by the diversion of the lava stream, which swept by within a few yards of the main portion of the town.

Librarian In Jail Studies Book Likes

Haverhill, Mass., June 6.—In order to learn the literary tastes of prisoners in order that suitable reading material may be provided in the penal institutions of the Commonwealth, Myron W. Fuller, assistant librarian of the Haverhill Public Library will make a one year self-imposed stay in the jails of the state.

He will attempt to make the prisoners "book conscious" and will report his findings to Miss E. Kathleen Jones, head of the public libraries section of the department of education.

Fuller will be on leave of absence from his work here for the year, and a sum of $2,000 has been provided for expenses, it was learned. The project was backed by the Bureau of Social Hygiene, Inc., of New York which is maintained by funds provided by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who heads the board of directors.

Fuller will make a tour of all the penal institutions in the state staying as long as a month in the more important cities. He will from talks with inmates learn at first hand the best method of selecting books to complete the libraries.

Latin Language Troubles Turkey

Constantinople, June 6.—Turks are not finding it easy to accommodate themselves to the results of the decree last December ordering the universal use of Latin instead of Arabic.

Yekub Kadri Bey, noted author and journalist, declares that the reform has not only done no good, but has produced a serious crisis in education.

Although there is now compulsory attendance at the national schools by both sexes between the ages of 16 and 40, on pain of fine and imprisonment, the people, he says, appear to be making no serious effort to read.

Most of the newspapers have suffered a reduction of 50 per cent in their circulations, for lack of readers, and about 12 periodicals have ceased publication. It is asserted certain daily newspapers in Constantinople may be forced to close down.

In the country districts things are still worse. Several of the provincial newspapers are selling no more than 500 copies a day, and a popular humorous review which formerly sold 25,000 copies weekly has lost 90 per cent of its circulation.

Representatives of the publishing, printing and book-selling interests have been sent to Ankara as a deputation to place their plight before the government.

New York.—Inexperienced men and women of financial means, who in former years were the prey of fake stock promoters, to the extent of $500,000,000 to $1,000,000,000 a year, are rapidly turning to legitimate securities, according to H. J. Kenner, general manager of the Better Business Bureau in New York City.

After Everything Else Failed, Owa-Ton-Na Brought Results

Waynesburg Resident Could Not Dress Himself For Pain; Rheumatism and Piles Had Completely Broken Down Health

Those who suffer from rheumatism or its kindred ailments and know the discomfort and even torture which this affliction can bring about will find in the story of Mr. Wm. J. Parker, Waynesburg, Ohio, new hope since Mr. Parker has been completely relieved of the suffering from rheumatism and piles. He says:

"For the past three years now, I have been gradually going from bad to worse."

"Everything that I had ever heard of that was good for rheumatism, I tried; yet nothing seemed to touch my trouble. I finally got so bad I couldn't even raise my arm. I would suffer for days at a time and different parts of my body felt as though someone were pouring white hot metal over me. Sharp, dagger-like pains made me want to cry out."

"After my system cleared up, the rheumatism started to leave me and in a short time the suffering was practically gone. Now the rheumatism is completely gone, piles which have caused me so much worry in the past few years are also gone. In fact I feel like a new man. Owa-Ton-Na has done wonderful things for me and you can readily understand that I would recommend it to my friends. They, too, are en-

Memorial For Bell Stirs Hub Students

Boston, June 6.—While plans were under way at Boston University to erect a $1,500,000 memorial tower to Alexander Graham Bell which will stand in the midst of a group of new University Buildings on the banks of the Charles River, literary groups among the students were waging a "war" over the advisability of the project.

Directors of the University project hope to complete the memorial unit by 1930 when the City of Boston will hold its 300th anniversary. The tower will command the center of a large group of buildings, and will be an alumni center for the University. It will be in memory of Bell, telephone inventor and once a professor on the Boston University faculty.

"Buildings are mere weather proofings against the elements," declared the editors of the B. U. "Beacon," historic magazine that

RED CROWN GASOLINE
We make Red Crown in the same great plants that produce Sohio, because our customers are educated to a better grade of fuel than ordinary motor gasolines such as we might buy in the open market.

SCORES of millions of gallons in the first six months! Sohio Gasoline was introduced to the public on July 12, 1928. By December 31, 1928, less than six months later, millions of gallons of Sohio had been manufactured and sold.

Never before in gasoline history in the State of Ohio has such complete success been registered by any gasoline. Never before have Ohio motorists demonstrated in such convincing manner, their belief that there IS a difference in gasoline.

Sales of Sohio continue to mount. Each of our more than 700 Red-White-and-Blue Standard Service Stations throughout the state, each of the thousands of dealers scattered from Lake Erie to the River, reports an ever increasing demand for this unusual high-test motor fuel.

There can be but one answer to this remarkable success. Sohio IS a different gasoline. Find out the difference for yourself—test it in your own car. Try Sohio—and learn what thousands of other Ohio motorists have learned—that there IS a difference in gasoline.

British "Flapper Vote" Elects Thirteen Women to New English Parliament

E. PICTET TURBERVILLE, Laborite; MARGARET BONFIELD, Laborite; LADY MOSLEY, Laborite; MEGAN LLOYD GEORGE, Liberal

DUCHESS OF ATHOL, Conservative; SUSAN LAWRENCE, Laborite; MARY HAMILTON, Laborite; LADY ASTOR, Conservative

THE "flapper vote," that dreaded question mark which was the nightmare of politicians in the campaign, made itself felt in the voting. With results about two-thirds complete, thirteen women, three more than in the old Parliament, had won seats.

None of these are Laborites, three Conservatives and only one Megan Lloyd George, the charming daughter of the Welsh statesman, a Liberal. The duking element was made up of Lady Astor, the Virginia-born Peeress; Lady Ives, and the Duchess of Athol, who was Parliamentary Secretary of the Ministry of Education in the old house. This trio won, however, by slim pluralities.

The Laborite contingent includes several striking personalities.

Among them is Jennie Lee, the 24-year-old school teacher, who was the youngest member of the last session of Parliament.

Elected from Middlesbrough East was Ellen Wilkinson, a red-haired Trades Unionist, who is considered the best of the British feminine orators. Margaret Bonfield, who started her public career as Parliamentary Secretary of the Ministry of Labor, after which she was elected to the House, was returned as a Laborite from Wallend with a plurality of 7,105.

Susan Lawrence was returned to the national Legislature by Eastham with a decidedly increased majority.

Among the new women members who rode in on the wave of Labor votes were Dr. Ethel Bentham, a

Penn's Grave Saved From Speculators

London, June 6. — Jordans, the Quaker village in Buckinghamshire, where William Penn, the founder of the American state of Pennsylvania, lies buried, is not to have its simple countryside marred by the speculative builder.

A scheme to preserve for all time the rustic beauty of the village and its surrounding country has met with gratifying results, many Americans contributing large sums to the fund which is to be devoted to purchasing the area.

Sufficient land already has been secured in the neighborhood of the famous meeting house to ensure that Jordans will always remain a secluded village, "one of the prettiest of the scheme told International News Service.

Last May it was proposed to make a new main road just past the meeting house. Among those who were against this was David Lloyd George, Ramsey MacDonald and Lord High Cecil.

For several months the Society of Friends, the famous Quaker body, which has a great interest in the little place where the founder of Pennsylvania worshipped as a Quaker, have been busy at work.

With the generous help of many Americans, several of whom made a special pilgrimage to Jordans from the United States and many other sympathizers, sufficient money has been raised to buy tracts of land surrounding the meeting house.

Crowded Cities Are Blamed For Cynics

Atlanta, June 6. — Crowded living conditions created by close housing in cities and life in apartment and tenement houses are making cynics out of children and making neuters out of grownups in the opinion of Dr. J. S. Plant, director of the Essex county juvenile clinic of New York. N. J. here recently attended the convention of the American Psychiatric association.

Children turn their cynicism toward their parents, toward sex, toward the more cultural aspects of life in general with a consequent grave loss both for the parents and the child, Dr. Plant observes after many years study of that phase of psychiatry.

"Crowded living conditions," said Dr. Plant, "creates a challenge to the child's illusions about other people. Our worship of people arises much more from what we don't

Old Case Comes Up
The case of the St. Clair township Mutual Insurance company, against Harry Potts and others, the petition of which was filed June 3, 1921, and which is now the 20th oldest case pending in common pleas court has again come to the front as a result of Judge W. E. Duncan in common pleas court granting leave to the defendant's Harry Potts and Margaret Potts to file an answer at once.

LARGE AIRSHIP READY FOR TRIP OVER ATLANTIC

R-100 To Make Initial Oceanic Flight Next Month

Howden, York-shire, June 6. — After five years of intensive preparation and study Britain's new mammoth airships R-100 and R-101 are about to be "launched" for their trials.

R-100, the biggest airship in the world, will make her first flight across the Atlantic early in June if the trials are satisfactory. She will attempt the crossing with 100 passengers on board.

Many Passengers
Applications for passages have been received from all parts of the world. Among these who wish to make the trip is Lady Drummond Hay, the society woman who made the first cross-Atlantic trip in the Graf Zeppelin, and recently flew to Palestine in the same vessel. Many would-be passengers are offering $5,000 for accommodation.

Three hundred men and 50 girls are engaged in putting the finishing touches on R-100. The vessel will attain a speed of 100 m. p. h. Her engines total 4200 h. p. and are suspended in three huge cars from the hull.

May Have Ballroom
From the hull also is slung a great "coach" consisting of three floors, where the passengers and crew will be accommodated. Here are two-berth and four-berth cabins, a lounge and a dining-room. One of the floors may be used as a ballroom for dancing in the air.

The most elaborate lighting and cooking apparatus has been installed and passengers are promised all the luxury and comforts of a big ocean-going liner.

When in flight the vessel will carry ufficient fuel in her tanks for a voyage of 5,000 miles at moderate speed.

MILLION

have been built

With every department of the Frigidaire factories running at maximum capacity, with orders greater than at any time in the history of the business, on Thursday, May 16th, the Millionth Frigidaire was built

In both the Household and Commercial fields Frigidaire leads in sales to customers

THERE are definite reasons why more Frigidaires are in use than all other makes of electric refrigerators combined; why it is the choice of home owners, of builders, of apartment owners, of commercial refrigeration users throughout the world.

Beauty, power and convenience

Frigidaire has surplus power that meets every emergency in the hottest weather, and yet operates economically always.

Frigidaire cabinets are beautiful—they are finished in gleaming porcelain enamel, or white Duco—clean and easy to keep clean. The mechanical part is completely enclosed and so quiet that you don't hear it start, stop, or run. Food shelves are elevated so that stooping is unnecessary.

The famous "Cold Control"

And in addition to the standard temperature regulator which automatically maintains an ideal temperature in the food compartment, Frigidaire is equipped with the famous "Cold Control" that speeds the freezing of ice cubes and makes possible dozens of new and delicious desserts and salads.

Low Prices

Because Frigidaire has achieved the million mark—because it is the overwhelming choice of the majority—the economies of quantity production have made prices so low that every model represents a tremendous saving to the buyer.

The D-4 Frigidaire equipped with the "Cold Control" Only $195* complete, delivered and operating in your home

Woman Speaks Out Of Turn; Is In Jail

Toledo, O., June 6.—Because she "spoke out of her turn in court" Helen McCarthy, former sweetheart of Jim Lyons, one of the few men who died in the electric chair at the Ohio state penitentiary with vulgar oaths on his lips, today is under sentence to serve 10 days in jail for contempt of court.

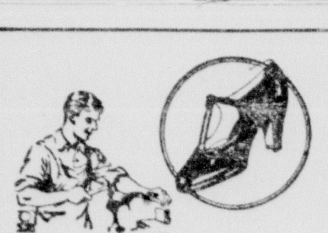

Helen and her husband, "Gyp" Williams, ex-pugilist, were on trial on an assault charge when she "spoke her mind" to Judge H. A. Miller, of Celina, O., who immediately sentenced her to 10 days in the local bastille.

Bountiful Home Run Crop Disturbs Powers Of National League

Hit and Walk Play Getting 'Too General'

BY DAVID J. WALSH
New York, June 6.—By fast running some of the more agile of our young men may soon be catching their home runs into two base hits according to the word that comes down the ventilator with the rest of the hot air today, the idea being that the orgy of home runs finally has pulled upon the reins of the club owner.

Anyhow, the National League is going into hiding for its summer meeting in Cincinnati tomorrow and the tip is that one of the things it proposes to do is to declare a limit on home run hitting at the polo grounds in New York, at Baker Field in Philadelphia, at Wrigley Field in Chicago and at Sportsman's park in St. Louis.

Another proposal concerns the fixing of salary rolls in New York, Chicago and Pittsburgh, a movement that undoubtedly will receive the unwavering support of New York, Chicago and Pittsburgh. They are for the movement being big in things like that.

No Admission Made
Officially, baseball admits neither of these proposals as being contemplated steps. The league says it is holding its meeting in Cincinnati because it wishes to generate fan enthusiasm in the town and I am sure this is an excellent idea. The people are bound to become weary of watching a lot of club owners meet.

As for the home run proposal, it is informed that those behind it wish to place screens at the foul line in the parks in question or else zone the stands in such a way that any ball hit into those stands less than 75 feet from the foul line will be ruled as good only for two bases. This would apply only at the polo grounds, Wrigley field and Sportsman's park, since Baker field merely has a blank wall in right field and would have to be zoned.

It won't apply at all, of course, unless the four clubs affected are for it. So far, I know only that Charley Stoneham and Jim Tierney, of the Giants, are not for it.

Opposed To Idea
They are going to Cincinnati prepared to resist the idea austere and with marked firmness. It is their notion that the plan shouldn't be used at the polo grounds because the stands there sweep away from the foul line at almost an acute angle and that a 75-foot rule would be unfair to everybody.

It would. But so is the present rule which allows seven other clubs only a comparative few shots through the season at a right field line that is just a short nible from the plate. The time is coming when they will have to alter that condition just as some years ago they discovered how fatuous they were in allowing home runs into the lower stand and merely what you could get on drives that bounced off the coping of the upper structure.

Starfish destroy hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of oysters annually in Long Island sound.

Damascus Scores Shutout Win In City Loop Game

Damascus Quakers kept a tight hold on first place in the city softball circuit, handing the Merchants a 12-0 shutout at Centennial park Wednesday evening.

The Merchants collected only six hits during the fracas, while the Quakers battered their pitcher for 15 safeties. It was Damascus' fourth straight league win.

Defiance Wins Title With 17-to-1 Victory

Defiance, O., June 6.—Bob Stafford, star Defiance College twirler, allowed only four hits and struck out 16 batters in the game with Findlay college here yesterday afternoon, which brought his team through to victory by a 17-to-1 score.

It was the Yellow Jacket's thirteenth win in 14 starts.

Defiance batters clubbed the Findlay pitchers for 18 hits, including a home run by Merwin Brodbeck and triples by Joe Grogan and Ralph Geer.

The game closed the local college's baseball season and gave them the championship in the Northwestern Ohio conference.

U. S. Fire Outlook Stationed On Tree

Hogium, Wash., June 6.—The highest off-the-ground fire look-out station in the world has just been completed in the Quinault Indian Reservation in the heart of the Olympic forest belt. It was constructed by the Hobi Timber Company and will be maintained jointly by the United States Indian Service and the lumbering firm.

The "office" is a 7 by 7 foot cubby-hole located on the top of a giant Douglas fir. The 200 foot tree was topped by high-climbers 24 feet from the top and the coo-like structure securely attached with part of the trunk sticking up through the floor to act as a table and support.

A telephone will be included among the "conveniences" to advise rangers of fire locations but there will be no elevator to lift the "boss" to his high position. He ascends upward by a spiral ladder built about the tree trunk with iron rods and steel cable gaining admission through a trap door in the floor. Guy wires fastened beneath the office to stumps below keep the tree securely braced against the elements.

Paris.—A human nose is worth about four hundred dollars in the opinion of a jury at Nancy which has just awarded this sum to compensate a young girl for injuries received by an enraged lover.

New Record Holders Among Collegians

Stanford University brought a small squad numerically to the I. C. A. A. A. games at Philadelphia, Pa., but they made up in quality by running off with the championship for the third consecutive time. They had some tough competition, too. Captain James Reid of Harvard, center, smashed his way to a new record in the two-mile event with time of 9.22. Jess Hill, right, of Southern California was beaten in the broad jump until his last try in which he set a new record of 25 feet seven-eighths inches. Phil Edwards, right, the machine-like runner from N. Y. U., lowered the 880 yd. mark to 1:52.2-5.

French Generals Get Foch Honors

Paris, June 6.—Honors left by Marshal Foch appear to be descending on other military leaders.

While rumors continue that General Weygand, friend of the late wartime generalissimo, will receive a marshal's baton, Marshal Petain has announced his candidacy to the Foch chair in the French Academy.

Paul Valery, poet, is sponsoring the aspirant to the highest honor that France can give to a man of letters.

Although a member of the Academie des Sciences Morales, Marshal Petain is better known as the defender of Verdun where he directed the operations against the German offensive although suffering from pneumonia. He was second-in-command to Foch.

National League Providing Fans With Thrills Aplenty

BY LES CONKLIN
New York, June 6.—Only 3 1-2 games separate the league-leading Pirates from the fourth-place Giants in the National League scramble today, providing a four-cornered race close enough to make the turnstiles click merrily for many weeks to come. The Giants, who are furnishing most of the fireworks at present, knocked the Cardinals out of the lead yesterday while Pittsburgh was idle.

The same old gang is setting the pace in the Heydler circuit and indications are fast growing that the American League campaign will be another two-horse race between Philadelphia and New York. The Yanks, off on another tear against the Western clubs won their fifth straight yesterday and took second place from the Browns, who were unable to stop the Athletics. The latter have yet to lose two games in succession this year.

The Yanks, with Ruth, Menner, Koenig and Lary out of the regular lineup, have not made an error nor lost a game since the club was shaken up, and not a single pitcher has been knocked out. They nosed out Cleveland in the twelfth yesterday, 6 to 5.

With his mates piling up a comfortable lead off Crowder, Rube Walberg of the Mackian machine held the Browns to four hits and won 5 to 2. Cochrane and Miller hit homers for the A's and Kress and Melillo dilted for the Browns. Master Melvin Ott's twelfth homer of the season coming with two on base, featured New York's 6 to 4 win over the Cardinals. Chick Hafey starred for the cards with three hits, including his thirteenth homer.

Buzz McWeeny of Brooklyn blanked the Cubs for eight innings but blew up in the ninth when the Veteran Bancroft messed up two chances for double plays. A pinch hit by Gabby Hartnett gave Chicago a 4 to 3 edge.

Both tallenders, the Reds and the Red Sox, stepped out of character to put on a batting carnival. Scoring nine runs in the sixth, Cincinnati overwhelmed the Phillies, 21 to 4. Klein the Phil's fence buster, kept the lead in the home run derby by cracking out no. 14. Cincinnati's 21 runs set a new high scoring total for the year in the National League.

In Boston's 17 to 2 slaughter of the White Sox, the Red Sox collected 23 hits for 39 bases and made nine consecutive hits in the eighth after two were out, scoring eight runs. Each Boston player hit safely and the situation became so desperate in the eighth that Manager Lena Blackburne, a former infielder, went to the mound for Chicago.

Firpo Marberry of Washington, who used to work for Buckey Harris, held Bucky's Tigers to five hits and beat them 8 to 2.

MOVIES

In Playhouses Of Salem

El Volto, an unusual vaudeville act, is in Salem for a three-day stay. The act comes here direct from the B. P. Keith theater in Toledo.

El Volto is said to have been exhibited in many countries and examined by some of the greatest scientists and doctors.

The strange figure has the appearance of a wooden soldier, but has all the powers of an ordinary human.

El Volto will be displayed in the show window of the Sardin Furniture company, 100-102 Main st. Friday and Saturday for public inspection.

"THE AWAKENING"

Vilma Banky comes into her own in "The Awakening," which opens at the State Theatre tonight. The pleasing promise of all her previous pictures co-starred with Ronald Colman has finally been fulfilled.

This story of love and war in peasant Alsace also produces at least two other sterling performances of considerable size. Walter Byron, the young Englishman who is appearing for the first time in American pictures, has some magnificent moments as the young German cavalry officer whose love affair with Miss Banky as the little peasant girl, Marie Ducret, furnishes the near-tragedy of the story. Louis Wolheim, as the ruthless peasant, gives another of those sinister, dynamic portrayals of malevolent rage for which he has become so famous.

Miss Banky's role portrays her as the beautiful and pure idol of the little Alsatian village of Pre d'Or, whom an officer of cavalry pursues for the sport of making another conquest. When her seeming lapse from virtue is discovered, she is driven from the village by the infuriated inhabitants, headed by Louis Wolheim as the wealthy peasant whose hand she has consistently refused. The tragedy grows deeper as it becomes apparent that the young officer, portrayed by Walter Byron, has lost his notions of an easy conquest and has actually fallen in love with the girl whose ruin he brought about. The suspense of how the two of them finally reach happiness is continued with great skill up to the very last scene of the film.

"BLACK WATERS"

Adapted from the well known stage mystery play, "The Fog," written by John Willard, author of "The Cat and The Canary," "Black Waters" opens at the Grand tonight.

As Tiger Larabee, a weird old ship captain, James Kirkwood carried off the honors, but was pressed closely by Lloyd Hamilton, screen comic, both of whom gave fine portrayals in their speaking roles. Mary Brian, who played the only girl role, was effective, and the other principals, John Loder, making his first appearance since coming from England; Frank Reicher and Robert Ames, stage veterans, and Noble Johnson all gave splendid performances.

Taking the waterfront of San Francisco, the cabin and deck of a ship adrift in the fog and a cabaret for his locations, Mr. Willard has written a baffling picture, crammed with mystery, thrills and an interesting love story. It makes a splendid evening's entertainment.

The opening scenes in the night club when the principals receive their letters from "Tiger" Larabee starts the picture off at once with a touch of mystery that is not ended until the last scene is flashed on the screen.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, June 6.—Color trends are as significant for future fashions as those of silhouette, fabrics or accessories, and unless all signs fall, brown will be the favorite, when the leaves begin to fall, and this means of course, that it will be very much in favor for late summer wear when winter modes begin to appear.

After a long summer of yellow greens and soft yellows which the dressmakers are showing now, they predict a revival of the warmer chestnut tint for autumn wear. Lacquer-red is still in favor, as well as the darker wine shades, and several designers are using a very dark garnet known as "dregs," which explains itself. Caping and pasturium shades are still popular and there is a little revival of hyacinth-blue.

"Dirty rose" pinks appear for little afternoon jacket-ensembles and sleeveless dresses of shantung or crepe, with a still paler shade for evening.

Any number of white georgette, crepe satin and crepe remain are being shown for Casino wear, but one doubts if white will be much favored for the winter.

Black remains extremely important, whatever the season, alone or combined with light blue, white or pale pink. Cinnamon-brown has been worn recently by several smart women on the Riviera for evening.

THE GUMPS—THE WIDOW IN DISTRESS

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

Aspic is another name for highly spiced jelly in which may be moulded many substantial foods. Eggs, fish, chicken, meats, vegetables when chilled in an aspic are extremely flavorful. And so aspic is one of the best ways in which to serve nourishing food in warm weather when the appetite rebels at most substantial foods, even when the body requires them. Incidentally, the gelatin which is the substance of aspic has additional food value in itself.

A convenient method is to prepare some plain aspic and keep it in the refrigerator. It will maintain its good flavor for several days if properly chilled, and can be used from time to time in different ways. One day aspic may appear in the shape of a refreshing jellied soup, served in cups. Or, some diced meat or vegetables may be molded in aspic, packed in a brick to harden, and then served most appetizingly on a bed of lettuce. It's a one-piece dish that contains in itself all the advantages of meat, vegetable and salad if these are combined. Here is a basic recipe for plain aspic, which can be adapted to several uses:

Plain Aspic

- 4 tablespoons gelatin
- 4 cups cold water
- 1 small carrot
- 1 small onion
- 1 stalk celery
- 3 tablespoons tarragon vinegar
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 3 egg whites.

Soak gelatin in 1 cup of cold water. Cook the chopped vegetables and spices, vinegar and lemon in the 4 cups of cold water, simmering for 20 minutes. Grated lemon rind adds good flavor. Then strain

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

"Why is it I can dance all night and not feel a bit tired, and three hours of housework simply exhaust me?"

The Sweet Young Thing sank down in her pale green kitchen chair looking completely all in. No, it wasn't a mental attitude she really was tired out and one look at her shoes told the story. Spike heeled shoes. Nice long, narrow ones—except that they had seen better days. For some mysterious reason one can dance or walk briskly in these contraption which don't look quite natural when examined cold bloodedly in a kitchen. In a bathroom they look right, and they feel perfectly grand. No doubt about it. You whirl around in them in complete comfort.

But trudging around slowly indoors, performing household tasks, high-heeled pumps are all wrong.

They tire the feet, and incidentally, they're not aesthetically the ideal combination with a house dress.

"But I can't wear low-heeled shoes—I'm so used to these high ones," protested the Sweet Young Thing.

Still, she does manage to wear low heeled footwear on the tennis court and judging by her game she feels fine in 'em! There's neither rhyme nor reason to the theory that just because you wear one kind of shoe never get into anything else. On the contrary, variety will relax the feet.

Housework, which because of our habit and its variety, means lots of walking, and lots of standing, deserves that one should be equipped with the most suitable shoes. Not half-worn smart shoes bought for outdoors. But house shoes bought as one buys house-dresses, for comfort, for appropriateness—that's all.

A very well-attended inter-city meeting of the East Palestine and Leetonia Kiwanis clubs was held on Tuesday evening in Leetonia at St. Paul's Lutheran chapel with the Kiwanis club serving the dinner. The program was of special interest and was in charge of the inter-city relations committee which consists of F. W. Messman, chairman, Grappy F. Devere and Ross Mellinger.

A. A. Streng of East Palestine was chairman of the East Palestine group and introduced the several acts taking part in the program.

Best Benton gave a group of vocal solos accompanied on the piano by Miss Bergham, both of East Palestine. The address of the evening was given by the Rev. C. R. Meekins, pastor of the Methodist church in Leetonia. The subject of his address was "Permanent Values." He pointed out that the material things of life are not permanent values, but such things as wisdom and such things that make for greatness and permanence.

A. A. Streng, a trustee of the Fairmount children's home, was present and told that on Wednesday evening, June 12, the Kiwanis clubs of Fairmount and Canton were to be at the Fairmount children's home, with the children putting on the entertainment. He extended an invitation to both the Leetonia and East Palestine clubs to join in this meeting. W. Wiedmayer, a local Kiwanian, was a trustee of the home, added his voice for an acceptance of the invitation. Both clubs accepted and will endeavor to send large delegations to the meeting.

On Tuesday, June 11, at the next regular Kiwanis meeting of the local organization, the banner meeting of the year will be held, "Ladies Night," when the wives and sweethearts of the members will be guests of the club.

The Dorcas society was entertained on Tuesday evening by Mrs. Fred Mix in her home at Washington. The evening was enjoyed in a friendly and conversational manner. Refreshments were served by the ladies.

Mrs. Forrest Ramage went to Leetonia on Tuesday for a few days visit in the home of her brother and sister, Karl Howell and Mrs. Howell. Mrs. Ralph Lundstrom and Mrs. Ray Hum.

Mrs. Karl Howell submitted to an operation on Tuesday morning for the removal of her tonsils at the Leetonia hospital. She is reported to be settling along well.

Concrete To Be Poured On Lisbon-Youngstown Road

Lisbon, June 6.—Unless weather conditions interfere with present plans, the first concrete will be poured on the new Lisbon-Elkton-Youngstown road June 10. This is the plan of George B. Patterson of Wellsboro, to whom the county commissioners awarded the project several months ago.

This road is now closed at the intersection of the East Liverpool-Youngstown road, and the sub-grade is now being worked up. Side forms for the roadway will be erected within the next few days. Materials are to be trucked from Elkton, where all rail deliveries are to be made. It has been suggested that this road will be surfaced to width of 16 feet the entire distance west to Elkton in 90 working days.

Before the new Elkton road is opened to traffic, it is believed that construction work will have started on the St. Clair township-California Hollow section of the East Liverpool road.

Between Lisbon and Elkton the State Highway Department is now maintaining a wide traffic bound surfaced road, and the narrow brick road in Elkton is to be widened to some extent at an early date.

One way traffic is now being

'Jay Gould' Worries Denver Reporters

Denver, June 6.—Newspaper reporters are described as his principal trouble by Jay Gould, millionaire sportsman of the "east" in general.

On his recent visit to Denver he visited a local pickle factory, placed a large order, and resigned himself to a local hotel. The more persistent reporters were to see him, the more persistent Gould became that should not see him. But finally, he admitted his identity.

"Yes, my right name is Jay Gould, but I do not own any railroads. I control no banks and have never been in the divorce court. I am not pursued by any adventuresses, do not know any movie actresses and have never been the victim of a holdup.

Japan Is Curbing Radical Students

Tokyo, June 6.—Officials of the Japanese Education Department are in conference almost daily with representatives of colleges and universities under the department's direct jurisdiction, concerning the ways and means of curbing radical and subversive tendencies among college students, according to reports from the schools.

Police authorities are planning to take finger prints of all arrested on suspicion of on proof of radical leanings, in an attempt at more efficient judicial control.

The steady increase in the number of students punished for radical activities is worrying both educational and school authorities. There are several private college and universities which are notorious for radical tendencies of their students, it is said.

The majority of Government school students who were either expelled or otherwise punished for radical thoughts were in the high schools. Tokyo Imperial University had two students expelled, 15 suspended, and 11 reprimanded. Nine other students of the same university are under suspension pending investigation by police. It is alleged that they were in secret session planning, retaliatory measures against the police because of the suppression of a proletarian periodical they were publishing.
